"The Saga continues..... Episode III"

Tractor Full Tracked Heavy, Caterpillar D8H Armoured - STAR WARS

This engineer Milenium Falcon has now sped to the Strarch hanger where it is on display for the universe to see. For operation; the operator looked through a series of angled mittors mounted in the top section of the cabin. This unit was effectively utilised for a period of 25 years clearing selected ranges in QLD, NSW and WA. Plenty of force with this one!

Have a guess! – More to follow on this one

A future project

What do you get when you combine a cow, crawler tracks and a steel platform? Similar to the picture on the left of page, you will have wait and see – should be interesting!
